

You filthy yellow devil! Why don't you just eat your own shit instead of trying to get people to eat dog??!!

Every creation has a purpose. You are too stupid to know the difference between a food animal and a companion animal.

If you want Americans to try a different kind of meat, why don't you go back to your home country and make a business out of selling your little dirty Asian babies to Americans as ground meat. I am sure the world would be a better place if we killed those children instead of allowing them to grow up to think like you.

You had better not start counting the money you will make on dogs yet, because you can be sure that hundreds of thousands of Americans will do everything possible to put you out of business and if we get our hands on you, the dogs will dine on your flesh and chew on your bones with glee.
